The need	Some clients have assets, such as a family cottage, that will result in a large capital gain at the time of death. Unless there is a plan in place to cover the tax liability, heirs may be forced to sell the asset.
The solution	Equimax Estate Builder participating whole life insurance can preserve a family legacy by ensuring a tax-efficient transfer of assets to heirs. It creates a permanent asset that, through the crediting of dividends ¹ , provides the opportunity to increase in value. The death benefit could be used to cover all or part of the potential tax liability associated with the capital gain on disposition of the asset.
Client Profile	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Have an asset that will result in a large capital gain on death, such as a family cottage. Have good cash flow with little or no debt other than their mortgage. Like guarantees. Have a lower risk tolerance and prefer a stable, hands-off investment option.
Advisor Profile	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Believes in whole life insurance. Sells Equitable Life's Equimax product. Has clients who own cottages or other assets that they'd like to see stay in the family. Prefers the more stable investment return participating whole life offers. Not comfortable recommending investments to clients especially in times of higher market volatility.
Client attention grabbers	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> Who's going to inherit your family cottage? Canadians face the prospect of sharing their legacies with the government. Let's look at a way to help you keep it in the family. If I could show you how life insurance can solve your capital gain concerns, would you be interested? Would you like to see a stable long-term investment option that avoids the volatile returns in the equity market?

Positioning the concept	What do your clients enjoy most in life? Is it spending weekends at the family cottage or vacation condo? How important is it to them to see that cottage or condo stay in the family so that their children, grandchildren and great- grandchildren can continue to enjoy it? Assets like a cottage can result in a costly capital gain upon death. That capital gain could be so high that heirs will have no choice but to sell the family cottage to pay the tax. If your clients could prevent that from happening, would they? How good would they feel knowing that they have given their children and grandchildren the gift of a legacy....the opportunity to continue to enjoy everything your clients have worked so hard to provide for their family? Show your clients how they can preserve a family legacy and give a gift that will last for generations to come.

	20 Pay Premium Payment Option	Base plan can be paid up in 20 years.
	Guaranteed Cash Value and Death Benefit	Peace of mind knowing the coverage and cash value are guaranteed.
	An asset that increases in value	The longer your clients live, the greater the value of their cottage and therefore, the greater the capital gains. When it comes to putting a plan in place to keep the cottage in the family, Equimax Estate Builder is a perfect solution. It is a permanent asset that grows in value over time to help cover the potential tax liability. Value accumulates within the plan on a tax-advantaged basis. This may provide greater benefit to your clients when compared to traditional non-registered interest-bearing savings vehicles that are taxed annually.

Key features and benefits	Feature	Benefit
Continued	Ability to access the cash value through a policy loan	A policy loan allows your client to use the cash value in their Equimax policy as collateral to borrow money from Equitable Life. If the loan is granted, there will be outstanding debt against the policy. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The minimum loan amount that your client can apply for is currently $500. Equitable Life sets the minimum and it is subject to change. • The maximum loan amount that your client can apply for is currently limited to 90% of the available cash value less any amounts already owing on the policy (outstanding indebtedness). Equitable Life sets the maximum and it is subject to change, however, it will never be greater than 90% of the available cash value less any outstanding indebtedness. If at any time the total indebtedness under the policy, including the accrued interest, exceeds the available cash value, the policy will lapse and the insurance coverage will terminate.
	Returns that are guaranteed never to be negative	Hands-off investment management. Never having to explain why your clients' investments lost money. Client satisfaction grows as they receive policy statements that never show a negative return. Satisfied clients are an excellent source of referrals.
	Paid Up Additions (PUAs) Dividend Option plus Excelsior Deposit Option (EDO)	PUAs can result in increases in both the death benefit and cash value over the life of the policy. Add to that additional deposits made through the Excelsior Deposit Option and clients can build substantial value they can access for emergencies, to supplement retirement income or leave as a tax-free payment to their beneficiaries. The cash value of the policy can also become a potential source of tax-free income when the policy is used in a collateral loan arrangement.

Continued	Mutual company	Equitable Life is proud to be one of Canada's largest mutual life insurance companies. We are owned by our participating policyholders, not shareholders. Participating policyholders elect our Board of Directors. As a mutual company, we are not driven by shareholder pressures for quarterly results. This allows us to focus on management strategies that foster prudent long-term growth, continuity and stability. Participating whole life policyholders are eligible to participate in the earnings in the participating account through dividend payments. Dividends are not guaranteed and are paid at the sole discretion of the Board of Directors. Dividends may be subject to taxation. Dividends will vary based on the actual investment returns in the participating account as well as mortality, expenses, lapse, claims experience, taxes and other experience of the participating block of policies.

Frequently asked questions	Questions	Answers
	Why would I sell whole life when universal life offers more flexibility?	Equimax offers hands-off investment management in a diversified portfolio. It provides long-term growth and returns that will never be negative and once dividends are credited, they cannot be taken away. ¹ With Universal Life, clients could experience negative returns which can erode the value of the policy.
	Why would I sell whole life when universal life costs less?	Equimax also offers more contractual guarantees than universal life due to its built-in guaranteed cash value. Even when paying the required guaranteed premium, there is expected growth due to the payment of dividends. ¹ With the exception of advising clients on actions that may be required to their policy as a result of the impact of a decrease in the dividend scale, Equimax requires little or no management by an advisor.
	How do I know what initial face amount is required to provide a death benefit sufficient to cover the potential tax liability?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You won't be able to determine the exact amount, as it will depend on future factors at the time of death, but you can estimate it based on current assumptions. • Select a date in the future and estimate the potential tax liability. For example, look at how the asset has increased in value in the past and assume similar appreciation into the future. • Determine the initial Face Amount by looking at the projected values of the Total Death Benefit at that date in the future. The amount needs to be at least enough to cover the estimated tax liability. • Since dividends are not guaranteed, Equitable Life recommends using a conservative estimate of projected values for illustration, such as "current dividend scale less 2%". Preserving a Family Legacy Sales Solution illustrates how this works in a real life case study.
	Are dividends guaranteed?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Dividends are not guaranteed and are paid at the sole discretion of the Board of Directors. Dividends may be subject to taxation. Dividends will vary based on the actual investment returns in the participating account as well as mortality, expenses, lapse, claims experience, taxes and other experience of the participating block of policies. • Equitable Life has paid dividends every year since it started selling participating whole life insurance in 1936. As well, dividends will never be negative and once credited, cannot be taken away.

¹ Dividends are not guaranteed and are paid at the sole discretion of the Board of Directors. Dividends may be subject to taxation. Dividends will vary based on the actual investment returns in the participating account as well as mortality, expenses, lapse, claims experience, taxes and other experience of the participating block of policies.

Frequently asked questions continued	Questions	Answers
	Can clients make additional payments into a whole life policy above the required premium?	Yes, it's called Excelsior Deposit Option (EDO). The option allows clients to accelerate the tax-advantaged growth in their policy by making additional deposits above the required guaranteed premium. Those deposits buy paid-up insurance which may increase the total death benefit and total cash value of their policy. These deposits are optional and are not required to keep the policy in effect.
	Can Equitable Life guarantee that a policy will be paid up after a limited number of years?	Yes, by selecting the 20 Pay option, premiums for the base plan are guaranteed to be paid up in 20 years. Premiums for optional Riders and benefits may extend beyond 20 years.

Common obstacles from clients	Obstacles	Answers
	I already have life insurance.	I'm glad to hear that. A lot of people haven't taken that step. Can I ask you a few questions about what you have? Is it through work or did you buy it yourself? How was the amount of insurance determined? What were you hoping that insurance would do? Pay off your mortgage? Leave money to your children? Was the potential capital gain on your cottage or asset taken into consideration when you decided how much insurance you needed? Will the value of your current insurance policy grow sufficiently over time to keep up with the tax liability that will continue to increase the longer you live? What if we took a second look at what you have in place, just to make sure it's sufficient to do everything you want it to do and that it will keep that cottage in the family?
	Permanent insurance is too expensive.	Show clients that with permanent insurance like Equimax, a portion of every dollar they pay in premiums is actually more like savings. They shouldn't think of permanent insurance like they would their hydro or phone bill. When they pay those bills, the money is gone. But with permanent insurance they are investing in something that grows in value. Run an illustration to show how the premiums they are paying are really becoming an investment. If they still feel that permanent insurance is too expensive and doesn't fit within their budget, ask them what monthly payment they can afford and look at a combination of term and permanent to manage the cost. In most cases, the amount of insurance a person needs is often higher today, to replace their income, than it will be after retirement for estate, final expenses and capital gains tax.
