Product Options

Equitable has several Payout Annuity options to choose from, including:

Life Annuity

- Provides guaranteed income for the remainder of your life.

Term Certain

- Provides guaranteed income payments for a specific period of time (5 to 30 years depending on age at time of application).

Term Certain to Age 90

- Provides guaranteed income until age 90.

Joint Life Annuity

- Provides guaranteed income for the remainder of your life and your spouse's life.

Guarantee Periods

Depending on your plan you can choose from 5 to 30 years of guaranteed payments. If you pass away before the end of the guarantee period, your payments can continue to a named beneficiary, or be distributed to your beneficiary as a lump sum.

Indexed Payments

At the time of issue you have the option of indexing your payments by up to 2% each year. This helps to ensure that the value of your income payments are not eroded by cost of living increases that occur over the term of your contract.

Registered Annuity

While saving for retirement, your registered investments have enjoyed the benefits of tax-sheltered growth. Income payments from Payout Annuities purchased with registered funds are fully taxable in the year you receive them.

Prescribed Taxation

This tax option is unique to non-registered payout annuities. Policy owners enjoy preferred tax status and level taxation – two great benefits which can result in significant after-tax savings. These benefits are discussed below:

Preferred tax status:

The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) assigns a preferred tax status to prescribed life annuities, which allows only a portion of the interest income to be taxed. This provides significant tax savings in comparison to other non-registered investment options.

Level taxable income:

Unlike other investments, a prescribed life annuity has a level taxation structure, which means the taxable amount is spread out evenly over the future life of the owner. As a result, the after-tax income is relatively consistent. This can help to ensure that essential expenses are covered, and help you to know the amount of discretionary income that is available each year.

When it comes time to receiving your payments there are various factors that will affect the income amount that you will receive, including:

Age	The longer the life expectancy, the lower your payments will be.
Sex	Life expectancies for males and females differ. Females are typically expected to live longer and therefore will receive lower payments.
Interest Rates	Your payment is based on the current long-term interest rate outlook.
Amount of Deposit	The larger your investment, the higher the income payments will be.
Guarantee Period	The shorter the guarantee period, the larger your payments will be.
Indexing	The higher your indexing rate, the lower your initial payment will be. However, over time the payment level will increase and ultimately become higher than the non-indexed payments.

A Payout Annuity is a lump sum investment that provides a guaranteed periodic income.
